

PRESS RELEASE

AKKODiS Held an Opening Ceremony at its New Office to Promote Innovation

April 4, 2023

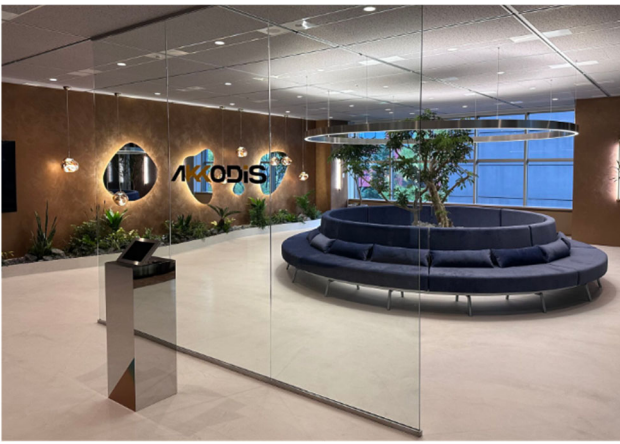

AKKODiS Consulting Ltd. (Headquarters: Minato-ku, Tokyo; President and CEO: Kenichiro Kawasaki; hereinafter “AKKODiS”), a provider of end-to-end consulting services that support the business transformation of organizations and companies, and the Japanese subsidiary of AKKODiS, a global leader in providing solutions that combine digital technologies and engineering in 30 countries worldwide, held an opening ceremony of its new office on April 3 and began full-scale business operations as a consulting company.

The new office was built as a place where employees striving to drive innovation can gather and communicate. The workspace adopts a hot desking approach (no assigned seating), is open-plan without any walls or partitions and designed to enable paperless operations. The spacious area allows employees to communicate freely and come up with creative ideas.

On April 1, AKKODiS renewed its business portfolio and made a new start with consulting services as its leading business. The company aims to achieve the vision of “transforming Japan into a leading problem-solving country” and will strive to work with and support the innovation of companies, organizations and regions.
